

Entire Yankee Executive Staff Puts in Busy Day Denying Wild Rumors Concerning Club

Sale of Franchise and Change in Management Given the Lie

Nehf and Irish Meusel seem cooling on proposition of trip to Japan; McGraw spends quiet day at Pelham; Landis departs and players scatter

By John Kieran

It would have been impossible to fire off both barrels of a hammerless shotgun in the vicinity of the Yankee headquarters yesterday without killing thirteen rumors and wounding four or five bally lies. The whole place was buzzing with the discussion of things that weren't so. Mark Roth stood at the outer portals saying "No" to each question.

Inside the sacred railing Cousin Egbert Barrow held the fort, ever and anon barking out a decisive "I deny it." Colonel Jacob Ruppert had a card on which was written his answer to all queries. "There is no truth in this." In the sanctum sanctorum of the club, the Honorable Landon Huston sat in the easy chair with brows wrinkled beneath the weight of his famous iron boiler. At thirty-second intervals Cap rose to his feet, stilled the assemblage with a gesture, uttered a vigorous "Taint so!" and resumed his seat.

The casualties among the rumors were distressing. The dear departed dead ones were stacked up in neat rows, and the badly wounded were tossed off into a neglected corner where they are lucky to receive medical attention before Doc Woods opens up his surgical chest at the next training camp. First and foremost, the Yankee club has not been sold to John Ringling, and will not be sold to John Ringling. As one of the Old Guard remarked, "Just because some of the boys played like dumb beasts is no reason for Ringling to think that the Colonels have a circus to sell."

Miller Huggins is still manager of the Yankees and will be while the spring rolls around. Babe Ruth has not been traded to the White Sox. Eddie Collins is not coming to this town to replace the lightweight manager. Neidermeyer will Bill Carrigan be yanked away from his business interests "down East" to head the local American League club.

No waivers on Colonels. Mike Kelly is a fine, tall fellow, and will probably manage a ball team next year, but not the Yankees. In view of the fact that the Bambino worked .118 in the late-lamented series, worked on the new Yankee ball park is still going ahead. Colonel Ruppert has not asked waivers on Colonel Huston, vice versa. "Nip" McManus will positively not play third base for the Huggins next year, though he has requested the privilege of being at the opening game, where he wants to throw out the first impire.

That about disposes of the rumor question. The tumult and the shouting of the press and the shouting of the captains and coaches have departed. There was no sign of life around the Giant headquarters. John J. McGraw took a day off at his Pelham residence, picking out his home state place for his triple-decked world's series crown. A few of the champions were in and out of the office on such minor errands. The big news of the day was the fact that the only home run of the day was credited to home run Mountain Landis. The Commissioner ran home to Chicago on the Twentieth Century. He was burdened down with eighteen bundles of official data on the recent fraternal strife between the two big boys. His one regret was that he had been too busy to get in his usual rounds of golf. All his enthusiasm for the royal and ancient game has been bottled up for a week, and some of the "links" is due for a terrible beating in the next few days.

It seems that Art Nehf and Irish Meusel are getting a bit dubious on the question of making the trip to Japan with Herbert Hunter's aggrega-tion. Lili Arthur is afraid there will be no pipe or cigar in Yokohama on which he can continue his musical

Want Baseball Trip To Orient Made on American Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—An appeal was made today to Judge Keneas Mountain Landis, Commissioner of Baseball, by the National Maritime Association requesting him to order the American baseball team going to the Orient to patronize an American ship on the journey.

In its message the association said: "American baseball players, including six who participated in the recent world's series, plan to tour the Orient to further the growth of baseball in America's great national pastime. They plan to sail from Vancouver using a foreign flag ship to Yokohama. Dispatches state trip has your approval. As the players go as representatives of the United States in sports you will urge that they patronize an American flag vessel and thus aid a truly American merchant marine."

The second attempt to stage the second contest of the eliminations was made here today. The vessels were started at noon, after several postponements, and after two hours had elapsed they had failed to cover half of the first leg of six miles the race was called a drifting match. On Monday the vessels had covered nearly thirty miles of the course when the race was called by fog. They had not sufficient wind to tow their sails.

For several hours to-night the committee conferred and it was decided that Saturday's test constitute this year's series.

To-night at a banquet to the skipper and crews the Nova Scotia fisherman the Bluenose and the Canadian Bluenose were presented to the second prize, $10,000, to the Canadian skipper Joseph Conrad; third prize, $5,000, to the Nova Scotia skipper, Margaret K. Smith, Captain Frank Whynacht.

Practice will be held three times a week. Blair Alexander, University of Pennsylvania and Princeton, in addition to several other out-of-state, will be included on the schedule of the first-year grapplers.

Last year's freshman team was one of the best that has represented Columbia in years, not one match being lost.

Bernstein Is Chess Victor in 42 Moves Over Rzeschewski

After playing through three rounds of the masters' tournament at the Chess Club International, 146 West Fourth Street, without losing, Samuel Rzeschewski yesterday suffered defeat at the hands of J. Bernstein, of the Rice-Progressive Chess Club, three times winner of the New York State championship. Inasmuch as the boy's adjourned game with Edward Lasker, of Chicago, is practically lost for him, he is now two points down, with very little chance of getting any part of the first prize. His other two adjourned games are with Jaffe and Janowski, which ought to yield him one and one-half points and possibly two.

In the game with Bernstein Rzeschewski had the black side of the queen's pawn opening. All went well with the boy, excepting for a backward king's pawn, which he neglected. Bernstein caught the little fellow napping and won a pawn. Thereafter Rzeschewski made a stout resistance, with Bernstein scored after forty-two moves.

Besides his three adjourned games, to be played to-day, Rzeschewski must meet Bigelow, of Oxford, in the fifth and final round to-morrow.

A complete reversal of fortune on the part of Bigelow, after his fine victory over Janowski on Monday, caused his defeat by Jaffe in a Queen's Gambit declined and twenty-four moves.

Another Queen's Pawn opening was discussed between Janowski and Lasker, the latter playing black. Lasker needed only a draw to keep well in the lead but he was successful in holding his famous rival. When the game was adjourned honors were still even.

Lasker, 2-0; Jaffe, 2-1; Bernstein, 1-2; Bigelow, 1-2; Janowski, 0-1; Rzeschewski, 0-1.

Federal Tax on Series Totaled $60,547.50

Federal taxes on the five world's series baseball games amounted to $60,547.50, Collector Frank K. Bowers announced yesterday. His report from Chief Field Deputy Antonio Dalesandro contained a detailed statement of the attendance and receipts at each of the five games, and gave the total seating capacity at the Polo Grounds as 85,514, divided as follows:

Box seats, 1,450; grandstand seats, 14,566; reserved seats, 8,494; general admission or bleacher seats, 12,000.

On October 5 and 6, 1,108 fans paid $3.00 for standing room.

A division chief and six deputies attended each game, and a deputy was stationed at each entrance, whose duty it was to permit no person to enter without an admission ticket. Newspaper reporters, photographers, club officials, police and firemen assigned to the park were required to pass through the press gate. Attention was given by the collector's deputies to any possible activity of ticket brokers. The box office statement was checked at the close of each day's game by representatives of the two baseball leagues and the collector's office.

The total attendance for the five games was 185,947.

Class B 18.2 Balkline Tourney on This Week

The New York State Class B 18.2 balkline championship tournament will be featured this week at the Recreation Billiard Academy, under the auspices of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. The entry will include several men formerly Class C experts.

This is the second annual renewal of the tournament, the title being won last season by Julian Rice. As he has graduated to Class A, he will not be eligible this year. Entrants also include Sidney Brussel, three-time winner of the Class C championship; also J. R. Johann and C. M. Steinbugler and possibly Robert Steinbugler.

Browns Purchase Infelder

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—The St. Louis Americans have obtained Homer Ezell from Shreveport, of the Texas League, it was announced to-day. Ezell is a third baseman and batted above .300 mark in the season just closed. The purchase price was not disclosed.

McKay Defeats Gelston In Three-Cushion Game

Herbert McKay won the final game in the first division of the amateur three-cushion handicap billiard tournament at Doyle's Billiard Academy last night, defeating Rodney Gelston, 25 to 22 in forty innings. Each man had a high run.

In the continuation of the amateur tourney at English billiards Herbert McKay defeated James Driscoll by a score of 250 to 184, incidentally making the record run of the season in the fourth inning, with a brilliant cluster of 74 points.

Dundee Drives Car Over Ledge and Is Injured

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 10.—Johnny Dundee, junior lightweight boxing champion, suffered severe bruises late last night when he lost his way in a mountain fog on the Northfield Road while driving his automobile and drove over a ledge. Dundee's car stuck on the edge of a forty-foot gully and the boxer leaped out, slipping several feet on the rocks and suffering from bruises. He was on his way to his West Orange mountain home at the time of the accident.

Hoover Denies Issuing Challenge for Race

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 10.—Walter M. Hoover, world's sculling champion, today denied he had issued a sweeping challenge to all comers to row at the American Legion athletic meet at New Orleans.

Hoover's denial came in response to a telegram from W. M. McKinney, president of the Potomac Boat Club, Washington, D. C., who queried the champion regarding the reported challenge.

"I have issued no challenge," Hoover wired to McKinney. "It is not my place. The Legion asked me to attend and I will row at its request."

Alumnus Football

(The same being a trifle revised from its first appearance)

BILL JONES had been the shining star upon his college team. His tackling was ferocious and his bucking was a dream.

When husky William took the ball beneath his brawny arm, they had two extra men to ring the ambulance alarm.

BILL hit the line and ran the ends like some mad bull amuck. The other team would shiver when they saw him start to buck.

And when some rival tackled tried to block his dashing pace, on waking up, he'd ask: "Who drove that truck across my face?"

BILL had the speed—Bill had the weight—Bill never bucked in vain—From goal to goal he whizzed along while fragments strewn the plain.

And there had been a standing bet, which no one tried to call, That he could make his distance through a ten-foot granite wall.

WHEN he wound up his college course, each student's heart was sore. They wept to think bull-throated Bill would sock the line no more.

Not so with William—in his dreams he saw the Field of Fame. Where he would buck to glory in the swirl of Life's big game.

SWEET are the dreams of college life—before our faith is nicked—The world is but a cherry tree that's waiting to be picked.

The world is but an open road—until we find, one day, How far away the goal posts are that called us to the play.

SO with the sheepskin tucked beneath his arm in football style, Bill put on steam and dashed into the thickest of the pile.

With eyes ablaze he sprinted where the lawless highway led—When Bill woke up his scalp hung loose and knots adorned his head.

HE tried to run the ends of life, but with rib-crashing tocs. A rent collector tackled him and threw him for a loss.

And when he switched his course again and dashed into the line The massive Guard named Failure did a toddle on his spine.

BILL tried to punt out of the rut, but ere he turned the trick Right Tackle Competition scuttled through and blocked the kick.

And when he tackled at Success in one long, vicious prod, The Fullback Disappointment steered his features in the sod.

BILL was no quitter—so he tried a buck in higher gear, But Left Guard Envy broke it up and stood him on his ear.

Whereat he aimed a forward pass, but in two vicious bounds Big Center Greed slipped through a hole and rammed him out bounds.

BUT one day, when across the Field of Fame the goal seemed dim, The wise old coach, Experience, came up and spoke to him—

"Old boy," he said, "the main point now before you win your bout Is keep on bucking Failure till you've worn that piker out!"

"AND, kid, cut out this fancy stuff—go in there, low and hard, Just keep your eye upon the ball and plug on yard by yard;

More than all, when you are thrown or tumbled with a crack, Don't sit there whining—hustle up, and keep on coming back—"

"KEEP coming back with all you've got, without an alibi, If Competition trips you up or lands upon your eye,

Until at last, above the din, you hear this sentence spilt: 'We might as well let this bird through before we all get killed.'"

"YOU'LL find the road is long and rough, with soft spots far apart, Where only those can make the grade who have the Uphill Heart,

And when they stop you with a thud or halt you with a crack, Let Courage call the signals as you keep on coming back."

"KEEP coming back—and though the world may romp across your spine, Let every game's end find you still upon the battling line,

For when the One Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, He writes—not that you won or lost—but how you played the Game."

O'Neill Is Forced To Make Shifts in Columbia Line-Up

Head Coach Buck O'Neill shook up his Columbia varsity line considerably for yesterday's scrimmage on a soggy field. A few of the changes were necessitated by injury to players in Saturday's contest, but the others can only be classified as regular shifts.

Possibly O'Neill has switched in anticipation of a stiff battle at the part of Wesleyan Saturday, thinking that he can form a more solid line.

H. W. Blaine and Lou Gehrig, respectively, varsity center and right halfback, are still on the injured list, as is also Jack von Brocklin, a halfback who showed up so well and gets the call whenever Gehrig is out.

Eddie Fischer, captain and tackle of last year's freshman team, has been used at guard from almost the first workout, but was shifted to tackle yesterday. Fischer apparently can do just as well at either position, but he has played at tackle since the first game.

Gordon Streich, who has usually arrived at Baker Field too late to get the line-up, was used at the other tackle yesterday, while Hutton, a freshman who started at the grapple's place against Amherst, was over the ball in the absence of Blaine.

Franklin Brodli, who has been used at every line position since he has played football for the Blue and White, was sent back from tackle to guard, where he started this season. Ed Meyer, who was at tackle Monday, was given a place alongside of the center.

The absence of Ben Roderick, one of the Blue and White's stars in the backfield, and Lou Gehrig's injury necessitated quite a rearranging of the line. Captain Walter Koppisch, who usually plays left halfback, took Ben's place at fullback. Walt's position was taken by Lou Gehrig's place at right halfback.

Kess Seovil, captain of last year's eleven, who was relegated to the back yesterday, made the first score of the day when he kicked a twenty-five yard fumble on the 60-yard line and dashed to the last stripe of whitewash.

Piani and Goulet to Race Spencer Brothers

Orlando Piani and Alf Goulet, who won a number of 100-kilometer team races during the last two months, will be put to the big test to-morrow night when they will race the Spencer brothers, Willie and Arthur, in a mixed race to be decided on a point system.

This event is named the Grand Prix of the Christopher Columbus Stakes, one-hour motor-paced race in which Clarence Carman, Frank Corry and George Wiley will compete.

The races will start at 3 o'clock, immediately after the finish of the Modified Marathon, under the auspices of "El Popolo." The last ten laps of this race will be run on the Velodrome track.

In the mixed race five heats will determine the victors. The first trial will bring together Piani and Arthur Spencer. In the second, Piani will clash with Willie Spencer, and in the third, Arthur Spencer will clash with Alf Goulet.

Two amateur races, one mile novice, two-thirds of a mile handicap, and a mile open, paced in half-mile heats, will also be contested.

Brescent A. C. Amateur Bouts October 25 and 27

The Crescent Athletic Club will start its indoor amateur boxing season on Wednesday and Friday evenings, October 25 and 27. Five classes will be contested. A point trophy will be awarded to the club scoring the most number of points in the tournaments during the indoor season.

Last year the Clark House A. C. won this trophy from the Bronxdale A. C. by a close margin of two points. Prizes to be awarded are diamond rings to first and second in each class and a gold filled scarf pin to the losers in the semi-final bouts.

Nonpareils to Hold Bouts

The Nonpareil Social and Athletic Club will conduct an amateur boxing tournament at its clubhouse, 1928 Prospect Avenue, Brooklyn, on Thursday and Saturday evenings, October 19 and 21. Four classes will be contested—112, 118, 128 and 138 pounds novices.

Owen Lost to Harvard For Game With Bowdoin

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 10.—George Owen, Harvard backfield star, who was injured in the game with Holy Cross last Saturday, will not start in the game against Bowdoin Saturday, it was announced to-night. Vinton Chapin will replace Owen at left halfback. Winthrop Churchill will start at right halfback in place of Erwin Gherke.

Daniel S. Holder, who made his mark at center last year in the Harvard-Yale game, was afflicted on Saturday. Two men were dropped to the second squad.

Foster Sanford Drills Team in Aerial Play

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 10.—Foster Sanford, this afternoon started his expected forward passing preparations for the important Lehigh game of Saturday by giving the Rutgers varsity a long signal drill and then lining it up against the freshman eleven for a short scrimmage. Captain Raub returned to his old job at left tackle. Sanford gave particular attention to quarterback, a new understudy for quarterback.

Chandler, the punter, will play quarter against Lehigh, with Maloney, the couple pivot man, out for probably a week against the freshman eleven for the first time in the game. Two men were dropped to the second squad.

Forty Men Report for N. Y. U. Yearling Team

About forty freshmen responded yesterday to Coach Wall's call for candidates for the yearling team of York University. The first practice consisted of calisthenics and push-ups.

Prospects are considered bright many high and prep school stars matriculated at N. Y. U. this fall. Of the most promising candidates James Taylor, end of last year's team (Vt.) eleven, and Russell Peck, other end, who was captain of a football and basketball at St. Paul (Conn.) High School.

Yale Begins Preparation for Iowa Contest With Scrimmage

First Eleven and Strong Scrub Team Work Out in Pouring Rain; Neidlinger Scores Only Touchdown on Seventy-Yard Run After Receiving Pass

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 10.—In a pouring rain the Yale football team held the first of three scrimmages this week preparatory to the game against Iowa on Saturday. The early part of the practice was held in the Yale Armory, where the varsity line-up for a signal drill consisted of Ed and Hulman, ends; Miller and Diller, tackles; Cruikshank and Croguards; Landis, center; Neidlinger, quarterback; Wight, left halfback; Warner, right halfback, and Mallory fullback.

When this team later scrimmaged, however, Miller's place in the line was taken by Quaille. It is certain that Miller will not be able to play on Saturday.

The scrimmage lasted for nearly half an hour and was against the strong scrub eleven. The varsity was unable to score on straight-line plays, barely getting the ball over the scrub 20-yard line. There, however, the scrubs were held until the fourth down, when Cochrane kicked to Neidlinger on the varsity 30-yard line and Neidlinger ran seventy yards for the only touchdown of the afternoon.

Later on the varsity rushed the ball to the scrubs' 20-yard line and was held for downs. Two plays later Cochrane again kicked and his kick was blocked, but the varsity was unable to put the ball over. The scrubs were prevented from scoring on one occasion on a fumble on the 30-yard line, where Wight fell on the ball and prevented the varsity's territory from being further invaded.

Several substitutions were made in the varsity line-up: Lufkin and Davis were substituted for Miller and Diller in for a few minutes at tackle. Cutler and Deaver both got in at ends, Lovejoy at center and Kelly at quarterback and Knapp, Haas and Knowles played the backfield.

Jack Owsley and John W. Field were the graduate players who came out to-day.

Doc Jordan followed the team in his street clothes, but there is very little possibility that he will be able to play against Iowa on Saturday. Becket was also out in his street clothes with a hand in a sling, and while it is a simple break, he will not be able to play before the West Point game.

The game with Iowa will start at 2:30 p. m., instead of 3 o'clock, it was announced to-day. This is to enable the visitors to make train connections after the game.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—The University of Iowa football team will stop over here Thursday on its way to New Haven, where it plays Yale Saturday. It was announced to-day following receipt of a letter from Coach Howard Jones, of the Hawkeyes.

The varsity team will practice on the field of University school in the morning. A reception and luncheon for the team are being planned by the Big Ten Club and the local Yale Alumni.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 10.—Mrs. D. N. Richardson, of Davenport, who at eighty-six years of age is a football fan, has ordered a special car to take her and twenty-five of her friends and relatives to the Yale game at New Haven, Conn., next Saturday, it was announced here to-day.

Bates, of N. Y. U., Out For the Entire Season

The New York University football team will start intensive training again to-day, following a day of rest yesterday. The men with the exception of Bates and Captain Taylor are in splendid physical condition, following the defeat at the hands of Syracuse last Saturday. "Fliver" Bates, the best of the team, will be out of the game for the rest of the season, due to a compound fracture of the leg suffered in Saturday's game. He was tackled fiercely by a Syracuse man on the opening kick-off and a broken leg resulted.

The loss of Bates will be keenly felt by the New York eleven, but Coach Howard Jones has an able substitute in Ed Wetherdon, a senior varsity tackle. Wetherdon, although new and inexperienced in the fullback position, is big and fast. His punting is also receiving commendation from the coaches.

Captain Taylor, suffering from a leg ailment, but it is expected that he will be back in uniform within a few days. New York University will meet Hobart next Saturday on Ohio Field.

Heldt, Star Center, Is Lost to Iowa Eleven

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 10.—Gloom prevailed on Iowa Field this afternoon, as the Western Conference champions took their final practice before their departure to-morrow afternoon for New Haven, Conn., where they play Yale Saturday afternoon, when it was learned that John Heldt, star center, would not be able to perform in the intersectional classic.

Heldt, according to Dr. W. R. Fliver, medical supervisor for the eleven, is suffering from an attack of lumbago.

With Heldt out, Coach Howard Jones called in Scott McIntyre, Superior, Ia., one of the brilliant players on the team, to take his place.

Parkin, first string quarterback, not allowed to scrimmage to-day, due to an injury to his knee, which is not mending so rapidly as was predicted after the Knox game Saturday.

Owen Lost to Harvard For Game With Bowdoin
